Thunderbird Mission Statement
“To educate global leaders and managers who will maximize the benefits of the 4th Industrial Revolution.”

Thunderbird Vision Statement
“A world with sustainable and equitable prosperity.”

Thunderbird History
Thunderbird has been one of the top-ranked international management schools for decades. With more than 70 years of experience, Thunderbird continues to produce leaders capable of tackling the world’s greatest challenges. As the world continues innovating and the technology changes of the 4th Industrial Revolution alter the way we live and work, Thunderbird is developing nimble, ethical, global leaders who are equipped to craft sustainable businesses, economies, cultures and environments around the world for the 21st century.

On April 8, 1946, Thunderbird School of Global Management (originally known as the American Institute for Foreign Trade [AIFT]) was chartered in Glendale, Ariz. World War II air base, Thunderbird Field, where pilots from around the world came for training during wartime. General Barton Kyle Yount obtained the airfield with the express purpose of developing a school focused exclusively on international trade and global relations. General Yount was named Thunderbird’s first president, and established a vision for the school that remains today—built on the phrase coined by original faculty member Dr. William Lytle Schurz, “Borders frequented by trade seldom need soldiers.” With that, Thunderbird’s mission to “educate global leaders who create sustainable prosperity worldwide” was born.

As AIFT, Thunderbird became the first-ever higher-education institution to focus exclusively on international management by concentrating curriculum on cross-cultural communication, regional business studies and hands-on, real-world training in global business nuances. Thunderbird continues to deliver global management education in this same fashion today, with world-renowned faculty who have extensive practitioner and consultant experience in all facets of international business.
Joining the Nation's Most Innovative Public University

In 2015, Thunderbird became an independent unit of the Arizona State University Knowledge Enterprise, combining Thunderbird’s multi-decade heritage of developing global business leaders with ASU’s expansive resources, and in 2018 relocated to ASU's vibrant Downtown Phoenix campus. The move brought the world’s #1-ranked master’s in management under the umbrella of the nation’s #1-ranked school for innovation.

Degree Transformations

As part of the merger with ASU, Thunderbird transformed its MBA program into an innovative Master of Global Management (MGM), which was ranked #1 by the Wall Street Journal/Times Higher Education for 2019. Students now choose from 15 concentration opportunities and benefit from the combination of Thunderbird’s rich history of training global leaders in skills like cross-cultural management, cross-language communication, and cross-border negotiation and ASU’s rich history of innovation in disciplines from bio design to journalism, space science to humanities.

Our degree portfolio also includes the prestigious Executive Master of Global Leadership & Strategy, the Online Master of Applied Leadership & Management and two bachelor’s degrees: the Bachelor of Global Management and the Bachelor of Science in International Trade, both of which are delivered on the ASU West campus.

Rankings

- #1 Master’s in Management by Times Higher Education/Wall Street Journal 2019
- #1 “International" Full-time MBA by U.S. News & World Report 2014 (18th consecutive ranking),
- #1 “Top MBA program by Specialty: International Business” Full-time MBA by Bloomberg Businessweek 2012
- #1 "Best in International Business" Full-time MBA by Financial Times 2012 (6th consecutive ranking)
- #1 “International Business” Full Time MBA by Wall Street Journal (7th consecutive ranking --> WSJ stopped their ranking in 2007)
Thunderbird Facts

• Thunderbird School of Global Management is the oldest and largest graduate management school in the United States focused solely on preparing international business leaders. In any given trimester, more than 29 countries are represented in the student body, offering diversity just by attendance, as well as courses and activities that promote cross-cultural ideals.

• In 1946, General Barton Kyle Yount obtained the Thunderbird airfield from the US government for $1.00 (a 100% educational discount). A congressman grew suspicious of this land deal and opened an investigation. The investigation became national news, and was carried by all the major newspapers across the US. The investigation turned out to be the best publicity that money didn’t buy. Since the story of the new school splashed across headlines, interest was generated throughout the country and the school opened six months later with a full class of students, mostly WWII veterans.

• The School was founded as a nonprofit organization known as the American Institute for Foreign Trade. Classes began October 1, 1946, and the first class graduated June 14, 1947. The school has since graduated more than 45,000 students who live and work in more than 140 countries.

• Dan Quayle, who served as the 44th Vice President of the United States under President George H. W. Bush (1989–1993) was a distinguished visiting professor of international studies for two years at Thunderbird.

Alumni

• Over 45,000 Alumni with alumni chapters in over 170 cities around the world
• #1 Internationalism of Alumni by the Economist 2016, 2017
• #1 Networking & number of overseas MBA alumni branches by The Economist 2015
• Private support from alumni and our philanthropic partners for the School has been strong with more than $10,000,000 raised this year in support of student scholarships, the Global Headquarters, and other key initiatives.
• The Alumni Fund for the Pub was launched in Spring 2020 where Thunderbird Alumni, students, faculty, staff and friends are donating to ensure that future generation of T-birds are able to experience the networking, camaraderie and mystique that can only be found at Thunderbird’s treasured Pub.
• The spirit of giving back is strong in the community and each class has sponsored a gift to the school after graduation as a way of leaving their mark for future generations of T-birds.
Thunderbird moved into the heart of Downtown Phoenix at the One Arizona Center building in the interim while a long term building is being built. Students are able to enjoy the dining, shopping, and entertainment while getting their elite global education. The beautiful walkways and scenery will add to the student experience.

Parking Permits @ ASU Downtown Phoenix Campus

Students may choose to purchase an annual or fall semester-only permit. These permits are for a specific location and are most cost-effective for students who plan to be on campus three or more days each week. Create a Transportation Account to purchase permits.

The permit allows for one entry and exit at a time. Sharing a permit to avoid hourly parking rates may result in a citation, facility fees or loss of parking privileges.
